

Natalie W. Bell
December 24, 2021 10:30pm

Good News of Great Joy
Luke 2:1-20

No matter how many times I hear this story, there is always something different that stands out.
What has caught my attention this year is the words of the angels:
“Do not be afraid; for see—I am bringing you good news of great JOY for all the people: ¹¹ to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah,^[a] the Lord.

Great Joy.

Now who doesn't want that at Christmas?

Aren't we all looking for JOY right now?
Don't we all want to feel happy, instead of stressed or sad?

And most of us look for joy in the expected places---
As we decorate our homes.
Or spend time with family and friends
As we shop for just the right gift,
Or exchange special presents.

But how often do we find lasting joy in these places?
If you're like me, we see a glimpse of happiness—but it's fleeting, right?
We feel great decorating the tree, until we get to the ornament that reminds us of the loved one who's not coming home.
We find just the right gift, or we receive something that blows us away, but soon our hearts and minds move on to the next thing.
Can you remember every gift you've received last year? I can't.

And how long does the happiness of family and friends last?
About as long as it takes for them to argue or step on each other's toes, right?
None of us have a picture perfect family, or the perfect Christmas home, or the perfect gifts, do we?

We are real people, with real problems, and real pain, and we can really see that at Christmas!

So where is the good news of great joy that the angels announced?
Where's that joy?
What IS that joy?

Well, I can tell you this—it's NOT the same thing as happiness.
Happiness is a result of a good circumstances.
And often we can find some happiness—
In good moments at Christmas.

But happiness is not the same as the joy announced by angels.
Happiness is temporary, but joy can last.
Happiness is a good situation, but joy can come despite a bad situation.
Happiness is a product of what WE do.
But joy-- is something that GOD does.

In fact, the angels give us a clue about where joy comes from.
“Do not be afraid; for see—I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people: ¹¹ to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah,^[a] the Lord.

What is the good news of great joy?
It's the birth of a Savior, the Messiah, the Lord.

So joy comes from what GOD is bringing,
not what we are giving,
not in the people around us,
or how we are getting along with one another.

In fact, this good news of great joy happens regardless of who we are, or what we're doing at Christmas.
It's a joy that happens in spite of our circumstances.
In other words, things can be really bad,
and God can still bring us joy!
Now that's incredible, isn't it?

In fact, the whole story of Jesus' birth is about joy that happens
In the midst of difficult circumstances!

Mary and Joseph didn't have a perfect Christmas.

She was pregnant before their wedding, a scandal to say the least.

Joseph chose to stay with her, a daring and surprising choice.

And Luke tells us that they had to travel far away, to Bethlehem, when Mary was 9 months pregnant—now, ask any mom how ridiculous that would be!

And to make matters worse, there was no room for them at the inn, so they stayed with animals, and she laid her newborn baby in a feeding trough, a manger.

In the middle of this incredible mess--- came the joy of a newborn Savior!

And shepherds were the first to hear and share this good news!

Shepherds.

Sounds reasonable to us, but shepherds were simple, uneducated, unaccepted, dirty, rough and rowdy guys, who were low on the social scale...

At the time of Jesus, shepherding was a profession usually filled by guys who could not find respectable jobs.

They were stereotyped as liars, degenerates, and thieves.

Their testimony was not admissible in court, and many towns had ordinances banning shepherds from the city limits.

The religious elite didn't like them, because they were usually working instead of observing the Sabbath, and they were considered ritually unclean.

The Pharisees classified shepherds with tax collectors and prostitutes,
"sinners" by virtue of their vocation!

But it was to shepherds that God announced the good news of great joy!

They were the first to hear this good news,

And the first to announce it!

And they left their flocks to go see this great joy—

Because they witnessed angels singing of his birth!

Our world says that only the strong, wealthy and powerful are important,

But God chooses people who are ordinary to experience the great joy!

Like those shepherds minding their sheep.
Like us, no matter who we are, or where we're from.

And you know what's so awesome?
 The shepherds were ordinary people doing ordinary work, when God broke in with the good news of great joy!

Which means--
 God can break into our ordinary lives, with the good news of great joy!

The joy of Christmas
 It doesn't have to be around the table, or the tree, or with family and friends.
 It might just be when we are minding our own business.
 Soon we will be putting away the tree, and the decorations, and friends and family will leave,
 But the good news of great joy will remain.

Because no matter what's happening, A Savior has been born for us!
 And the manger today----is right here, in our hearts.

Today, Jesus is born wherever people need Him.
 It's not confined to a church, or a well-decorated home.
 Jesus is born wherever, whenever people really need Him.

The question is, do we need Him?
 How will we welcome him and his joy, into our hearts?

Christmas is wonderful, but difficult, isn't it?
 Talk of great joy can seem a bit removed from our real lives, right?
 There are empty seats at the table, relationships that are strained,
 There is the pain we carry--from caregiving, or illness, from job stress or loss, from the worry and fear of this pandemic,
 from sorrow over national and world events.
 Sometimes all the bright lights seem to highlight the darkness in our lives.

Where is this great joy, in the middle of our pain?
 John's Gospel says that Jesus is THE LIGHT coming into the darkness, and the darkness cannot overcome it.

Maybe that's why light can help us to stop and remember the good news of great joy.
Maybe the light on the tree, or a candle, or stars in the sky.
It could be any light.

We have some candles on our table, and it has helped me this year to take time to light them, as I stop and remember—
That Jesus is the good news of great joy.
It doesn't matter what's happening, Jesus is here, helping us to get through whatever we face.
He is the light in the darkness.

Some years I sit quietly alone and looking at the lights on the tree to do this.
When I was a kid, we used to drive home from my grandmothers' house on Christmas eve, and we could usually see stars late at night out the car window.

There's a reason that light is so meaningful in worship.
Jesus IS the light.

Light is a reminder that we are not alone, no matter how dark life can be.
Light is a reminder that joy can come to us—even in the middle of pain.

The good news of great joy is for us-- whoever we are,
wherever we are,
whatever we are doing.
It's not confined to certain times and places.
And certainly not confined to Christmas!

The great joy comes from who Jesus is, and what he brings us.

Rev. Dwight Gunter says,

If our greatest need had been information,

God would have sent us an educator.

If our greatest need had been technology, God would have sent us a scientist.

If our greatest need had been money, God would have sent us an economist.

But since our greatest need was forgiveness, God sent us a Savior...

This is the good news that brings great joy.

"Joy." Dr. Dwight Gunter, Preacher's Magazine, 2007.

God sent us Jesus, a Savior, the one who can bring us hope, and grace.

That is a joy that lasts,
Because Jesus keeps on giving us His love, and hope, and grace!
For all eternity!

And that joy--is better than happiness,
Because there's no end to that good news!

So how about this Christmas, we let go of all the hyped-up expectations, and just let God be in our hearts?
How about we stop, and take a quiet moment alone,
Find a light somewhere,
and let that light speak to your heart.

And as you look at the light, think of the good news
Many of us have it memorized already—it's what the angels sang:
"Do not be afraid; for see—
I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people: ¹¹ to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah,^[a] the Lord.

That's the message that can bring us joy--
No matter where we are, or what we are doing--
No matter how alone we might be or how low we might feel.

Because it's a joy that transcends nativity scenes and Christmas trees, and all the gifts.
It goes well beyond this candlelight service,
and the gathering of friends and family.
It's a joy that sustains our hearts and lives.

It is the Good News of the Gospel--now, and always.
So may we stop and remember, and let it sink in.
Because this joy is for you, and me.

“Do not be afraid; for see—I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people: ¹¹ to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah,^[a] the Lord.

And all God’s people said, Amen.